

“In business, you
risk losing everything.
But you can never go bankrupt in the ministry.”

LAWRENCE KRUEGER
ALEXIAN BROTHER

When other young men his age were pursuing six-figure salaries on Wall Street in the 1980s, Brother Larry chose another avenue: a religious life focused on serving the sick and elderly. Today at age 48, Brother Larry is fulfilling his life's mission: to comfort those who might otherwise suffer, or die, alone. Although he clocks many hours in organizational meetings, he will sometimes clear the day's work calendar to comfort the dying. That may mean holding a hand, patting a head or just talking one-on-one. For Brother Larry, it's all part of the "business" of being a Brother. It's not about money. It's about the ministry. And that ministry, even through small gestures, makes a big difference in people's lives. To find out more about becoming an Alexian Brother...
